

Martinson wins King of the Track

July 2nd Earlville Iowa

Tri-State Raceway does their King of the Track with its top 4 points earners in each class doing a run-off for the class championship. Then the champion's run-off till a King is crowned. Branden Martinson (Super Pro) bested (Pro Champ) Ryan Ladeburg in a close race. Justin Rosenbohm (Sportsman) and Angela DeJesus (Pro Bike) were semi-finalists. Tom Roschen bested a tough field in the Weldon Tire Super Pro class. Roschen bested a red-lighting Bruce Damewood in the final. Dave Ringelstetter was the lone semi-finalist. Dan Balk won the Delhi Lumber Pro class over Nathan Schroeder. Both driver left green and ran 2 over the dials. Ryan Seffrood was the lone semi-finalist. Justin Rosenbohm bested Larry Behne in the Sportsman class final. Laura Steward and Mike Freeman were semi-finalists. Josh Edwards bested Bill Gauley in the Trophy class final. Edwards ran dead-on the dial to push Gauley under. Maddie Notch got the win in Jr. Street class over a red-lighting Gaiige Allen. Keegan Campbell was the lone semi-finalist. Evan Begyn put together a .005 pack leaving no room for Valerie Steffens and she broke-out trying to get there. Jasmine Moore was the lone semi-finalist. Kaleb Cox bested Allie Ulbrich in the Novak Electric Junior Consi. Maya Kohl was the lone semi-finalist. Evan Begyn came back for the Novak's King of the Track run-off with Kaleb Cox. Begyn ran dead-on for the win.

July 3rd Earlville Iowa

The 3rd running of the six race series dubbed Wright-Way Trailers Quick 16 was contested on a beautiful Iowa day. Clarence Mayo has his new car figured out and bested Tyler Gardner in a close final. Mayo bested last year's points champ Andy Pozolinski in the opening round the put together a string of 6.69's to best Bill Black and Tony Robertson to meet Gardner in the final. Gardner had stellar r/t's during his elimination rounds to best Al Mart, John Day and low qualifier Afton Swanson to make the final. John Day put together a .015 package to best Steve Geiger in the Weldon Tire S/P final. Tyler Gardner and Tony Robertson were semi-finalists. Matt Lund won the Delhi Lumber Pro class final over Nick Merfeld. Delvin Shepard was the lone semi-finalist. Travis Steffens used a .022 package to best Andrew Quinn in the Sportsman final. Carl Gardner and Larry Behne were semi-finalists. Jim Peterson bested Nathan Stowell in the Trophy class final. Dave Vegter and Jarod Lorensen were semi-finalists. Jason Azbill Jr. got the win in High School over Balyne Morton. Baileigh Allen and Travis Steffens were semi-finalists. Bill Morris bested last year's champ Bill Gauley in the AIH Chrome Street Bike presented by Grady's Graphics class final. Jim Ihm was the lone semi-finalist. Jason Azbill Jr. bested Ella Heath in the Toys Done Right Junior Dragster class final. Max Kohl and Lucas DeCook were semi-finalists. Kaleb Cox bested Brock Azbill in the Novak Electric Junior Consi. Aiva Moore was the lone semi-finalist. Kaleb Cox returned to face Jason Azbill Jr. in the Novak's King of the Track run-off. It was Cox from the start as Azbill left early and fouled. TSR would like to thank NHRA for the King of the Track program.